Scissor Types - a brief description

Convex Edge Japanese style Scissors

A Convex edge is the sharpest you can get on a scissor. This edge almost looks like a razor and is very fine. All convex edge shears will have a hone line ( a fine shiny line which can be seen in light on the inside edge), which gives the scissor it's smooth cutting operation, without any blade noise. These are normally medium to high value scissors

Regular Bevel Edge Scissors

A Bevel edge is an edge without a hone line as explained in the above description of Convex scissors. Since the hone line is not there, you will be able to hear the blades open and close. Some bevel edge scissors also have serration, which also has that familiar sound while in use.

Our guarantee to you

Methods of Payment

Cheque: Please make your cheque payable to Christies Direct Ltd.

Credit/Debit Card: In order to protect your confidential information, we will call you for your credit card details.

Our Sharpening Terms & Conditions:

- All items will be returned to you by courier, on a signed for service. The cost of this is £4.95 per order
- We will enclose an engineer's report for any items which cannot be sharpened to our usual high standard for whatever reason, i.e. broken teeth, excessive corrosion or excess wear. Please remember, if a blade cuts once after re-sharpening it is sharp, and no guarantee can be given as to how long it will remain sharp.
- In order to avoid damage to your equipment, please ensure all items are securely wrapped.
- All items sent from us to you are fully insured, however if you wish to have your items insured when sending them to us, then please do so at your local Post Office. Christies Direct will not be liable for any packages which arrive at our premises with damaged or missing items.
- Please test your blades and scissors within 7 days of receiving them, as unfortunately we are unable to accept any claims for faulty workmanship after this time.
